Dr. Yiyun Jie

Chairs: Prof. G.A. Postiglione
Prof. Mark Bray

Discussants: Prof. Kai-ming Cheng,
Dr. Yang Rui,
Dr. Anatoly Oleksiyenko and
Dr. Bruce Macfarlane

About the Symposium:

This Symposium explores the reasons for the growing popularity of regional and cross border collaboration in higher education, the major directions in which that collaboration has developed, the payoffs colleges and universities actually gain from these relationships, and the challenges that higher education and government leaders have faced in entering into and sustaining such efforts. The Symposium will assess opportunities and issues posed by cross border collaborations in higher education, identify particularly successful models, identify lessons from regional experience and, anticipate future directions of cross border partnership.

About the Speakers:

David W. Chapman is Distinguished International Professor and the Birkmaier Professor of Educational Leadership in the Department of Organizational Leadership, Policy and Development at the University of Minnesota. His talk will focus on the cross-border cooperation within the Asian region.

Yiyun Jie earned her doctorate in comparative and international development education from the University of Minnesota. Her talk will focus on China-USA cross border cooperation.
